GHOSTLY FIND ON LONELY PRAIRIE

Remains Believed to be a Cow Boy Named Schofield

While hunting for homesteads Chas. A. Holden of Grand Forks, N. D., and three other men ran across a gruesome sight 90 miles north of Bascom. Fifty miles from habitation on range 8, section 32, upon their return they reported the find and Policeman Fletcher of Berry Creek, proceeded to the point described and on Monday evening reached Gleichen with the remains of the unfortunate man, and at the hour of going to press an inquest is being held.

Policeman Fletcher stated the body was in a very bad condition as it had been eaten almost bare of flesh by the coyotes and a prairie fire had burned over it, consuming the man's clothing and leaving practically nothing whereby he might be identified. However he believes the body to be that of a cowpuncher named Harry Schofield, who has not been heard of since Christmas.

Schofield had been working in the district where he was found, for about two years, and kept the ground thoroughly. He had worked for P. K. ranch and a few days before Christmas left the ranch house for a visit to another ranch further north. Some four days after he had left, his horse returned alone, trailing a pickup rope. It is surmised that Schofield was off his horse for some purpose, and that the animal ran away, leaving him practically helpless, and that he was frozen to death before he was able to reach shelter.

The body was identified by the portion of clothing that was found under the remains and also by the teeth, which were very small and regular.

STRUCK NATURAL GAS IN CALGARY

This Assures Gleichen's Proposition

The following appearing in the Calgary Alberta Post Thursday makes pleasant reading for every one interested in Gleichen.

"A gas flow which is conservatively estimated at 1,000,000 cubic feet per day was struck in the gas well in east Calgary and the success of the undertaking assured."

"This flow in itself is sufficient to develop 1,000 horse power per day, but it is only the beginning of things in gas development. Work will be proceeded with in the same hole which is in line shape with a six inch pipe, and there is every probability that the pressure will increase with depth."

"When the test has been carried out, and maximum of gas has been reached, other wells will be put down."

"The power question in Calgary is now solved," says Manager Dingman.

"The last strong flow was struck at a depth of between 2,800 and 3,000 feet. The obstacles which have been overcome in reaching this successful stage of gas development in this area have been stupendous. But now there is no thought of troubles which have passed. The directors as shareholders, have an assurance that their investment is a good one, and Calgary has hopes of securing power at a rate which is far below what it now costs to produce by coal."

"From the amount of gas which is already assured 4,000 horse power per day could be generated."

Mr. Dingman was in Gleichen Friday afternoon to meet the Commissioners, when it was learned the petition being circulated by Secretary Johnston only needed about half down names to make up two thirds of the necessary, the number required to complete the agreement between the Council and Mr.
Dingman for drilling a Gleichen. It was agreed that he should return to Gleichen a week from next Friday to complete the agreement, that he should meet Mr. Dingman.

After the meeting Mr. Dingman paid a pleasant visit to The Call office and then congratulated upon his success at Calgary said it was just as he had expected as he and his associates were convinced that it only required time to reach the goal, yet it was pleasing to them to strike gas, which assured them that they had found a paying investment.

Mr. Dingman in answer to question went on to say his company were containing drilling and would put down a six-inch hole to a depth of 5,000 feet. He estimated that if continuing it was also hoped and expected oil would be encountered after the gas strata has been passed.

Mr. Dingman stated they would shortly begin operations to sink other wells at Calgary as one could not be expected to meet the demand for natural gas in that city. Referring to the coming Calgary exhibition Mr. Dingman said he would be able to fulfil his promise and have gas burning on the grounds during the fair.

Upon further inquiry he said he was quite as anxious as ever to drill for natural gas at Gleichen, and he believed the agreement would be entered into upon his return next week.

Cattle Thieves Get Long Sentences

A dispatch from Red Deer states the sensational cattle stealing cases which occupied the whole week in the supreme court, came to an end Friday afternoon, and all five men implicated were found guilty and received sentences.

Irving Holt, guilty of three cases of cattle stealing, was sentenced to three years imprisonment on each charge, sentences to run concurrently, making a nine year term in all.

Louis Selway, guilty of the same offence, was given five years, and James Holt was sent to the penitentiary for two years pending against John P. Dubois, who was convicted of fraudulently taking up land, was sentenced to nine months in the Fort Saskatchewan barracks, and Joe Cardinal, who was convicted of assisting to steal cattle, was given a three months sentence.

Defendants were then sentenced Dubois and Holt, and a preliminary investigation will take place at Stettin next week.

Defendants are known to many people in and around Gleichen and have been some time.

An Englishman Who Knows Canadian Ways

The following article containing the views and opinions of Mr. W.
A. Morgan, of the London Stock Exchange, on Canadian financial problems in the Westminster Gazette. Mr. Morgan's ideas are of particular interest, as they were gathered on the spot during a lengthy stay in the Dominion.

"The Dominion is slowly, steadily, but surely recovering from the serious strain which the American crisis directly and indirectly made upon it, and the weight of the burden was at one time stupendous."

"Many people in England are inclined to blink at the fact that American influences are rapidly growing in Canada, or if they admit the point to deplore it. They are wrong in both attitudes, and while it may be hoped that Canada never falls financially into the clutches of the American wire-pullers and millionaire corner-makers, it must be admitted that American influence, that of the individual, as well as that of the financial, is bound to steadily grow. The geographical position of the two countries alone makes this a more matter of evolution, and the inducements offered to the financier or farmer to step across the border into Canada are so great that progress in this direction cannot be stopped. There is no reason why it should, but the great momentum is, and will be to keep the Yankee thumb-ringer and card-sharper from fat-ting worthless properties on the British public, and to keep the Canadian financial methods clean."

Socially it has to be admitted that the Canadian born and bred is disposed to take more kindly to his American neighbor than to the Englishman. This is a fact. There is no need to magnify it nor to distort it, for the reason is clear. The American who enters Canada generally does so with an idea of farming or lumbering. Knows something of the methods, and is suitable for the occupation. The Englishman, if he resides in Canada, frequently has no knowledge of Canadian conditions, and has to learn them; if he has no capital in many cases he is absolutely ignorant, and more than ignorant, entirely unqualified for the work which he is to undertake. The position is that the Canadian farmers want farm laborers, and frequently get people sent to their farms in batches who are absolutely useless to learn the physical strain of farming work. Englishmen though farming may look on papers, it needs strong and willing man to give a day's work for a day's pay and it is then that the Canadian man, the working or the unwilling is no more good in the northwest or in any other part of Canada than he would be in Surrey or Hampshire. The Canadian air and open life can work wonders, but miracles. Many emigrants are as badly fitted for strenuous farming as a boy sent would be for building fortifications. The Canadian farmer is not a philanthropist, but a man striving hard to get on in his life. So the unfit or unwilling Englishman gets turned down. It is not always his fault, only perchance that he is unsuitable, but he gets turned down, and is as much estranged as the wolf in the neighborhood, and precisely the same condition frequently, waiting for charity. Not his fault; only the fault of the circumstances which have sent some of the physically unfit who may be taken on trial, or because the season is bad, and turned off again on early notice. But the Canadian farmers are given to pointing a moral on those facts, and judging a whole by its part, and if the truth be told the Canadians generally are disposed to emphatically resent the accumulation of the dumping of the unfit Englishman, while quite willing to welcome the physically fit.

SOLD FOUR YOUNG STALLIONS

John Clark, Jr., was in town Saturday and disposed of four of his young registered stallions, and it is understood they were all sold on his ranch on Glenora creek. W. Y. Kyrat of Strathmore purchased the well known six-year-old stallion "Boney Boy," No. 5482; H. O.
Borden of Bascom bought "Glennard Mc-Callen," No. 7184, a three-year-old; Gus Lindsay of High River purchased four-year-old "Royal Prince," 5278; and P.
S. Borden of Glenora bought "McCall of Glenora," 4468, two years old.

These stallions are all Clydes and are fine animals that the purchasers may consider themselves fortunate to possess.
The prices obtained were satisfactory.

Grand of the Hunter: Nothing is as intelligent as enthusiasm over things that please and merit; enthusiasm is the real ally of the tale of Orpheus; it moves stones; it builds cities; it popu-lates towns; it develops forests, fields and mountains; it makes the desert sable and it brings forth the richest treasures. Enthusiasm is the genius of science and no more-plains great victory because of the know-it and truth.

Gleichen will celebrate Dominion Day.

If Kipling is right is it any wonder that irrigation is required at times from Calgary to the Hat?

"Crop conditions were never better at this time of the year," is an expression repeatedly heard from the old-timers the past week.

Kipling said: "Medicine Hat has all hell for a basement" Now that gas has been struck at Calgary, will our friend Kipling please tell us what kind of a basement Gleichen has?

Calgary now has gas in paying quantities—it always had some, but it was not paying. Not so long ago that city smiled at the irrigation scheme and later at drilling for natural gas. Now those same people are smiling at the benefits they receive from these things. May we profit by their experience.

Although Manager Dingman has struck between one and a half and two million cubic feet of natural gas per day in the Calgary well he is still quite anxious to start drilling operations at Gleichen. He states the one well is only an incident in the operations his company have undertaken, although they have already spent in the neighborhood of $195,000 drilling at Calgary. The strike made at Calgary makes it the more certain that gas will be found at Gleichen in paying quantities at a reasonable depth.

Mr. Dingman has appropriately named his well the "Vindicator", and be it remembered the city of Calgary and the great C. P. R. company refused to undertake the work of drilling at Calgary, each admitting it was too great an undertaking for them. Therefore, Mr. Dingman and his associates are indeed to be congratulated now that they are vindicated. These are the stamp of men we like to see interesting themselves in Gleichen.

Complaints are often made that seeds do not come up. This is more often the fault of the one that sows the seed than it is of the seedsmen. Seeds often fail to come up because they are not pressed down or the ground made firm around them. After sowing walk up and down the row pressing the seeds firmly in or run a wheel barrow up and down if the wheel is wide. Some place a narrow board over the rows when sown and walk up and down it. Be careful to firm the ground after seeds are sown and when transplanting plants, shrubs or trees from one place to another make the ground firm around the roots.

Quite a number of Gleichen property owners are improving their homes by planting fruit and shade trees, berry bushes, making lawns, building and painting fences and doing other work to make their homes more pleasant and attractive. This is as it should be and is to be encouraged as much as possible. It has been suggested by a lady that a prize be offered at the Gleichen Fair this year for the best garden and if acted upon should prove most interesting as it would be keenly contested by townspeople and some of the nearby farmers. Another prize might be offered with good results for the best cultivated farm within a certain distance.

The publisher of this paper would be the last man on earth to knowingly say a word to hurt the feelings of any of its subscribers or citizens, especially at a time when the dark winged messenger of death has brought sorrows to the home, but from the best of motives we desire to call the attention of our readers to the custom of publishing "cards of thanks." It is a custom that has outgrown its purpose, if it ever had one. When sickness and death comes to your home it is only natural that your friends and neighbors should do what they could to assist you.
They would be heathens if they did not. They know from the expression of your face that you are thankful and deeply appreciate all they do, and it is not necessary to rush into print and tell the world that your neighbors were kind when you were in trouble. The reading public are becoming tired of the old stereotyped "card of thanks." You can express to your friends, by a look or word your thankfulness in a more impressive manner than you can in a column of cold type.

The people who rule over us and are in the highest places are usually on time, if it is possible to be so, so why not the rest of us for we have less pressing engagements. Going to a concert is not like going to church, where so many of us go just to let other people see we do go, but wish to get out as soon as possible and by going late we make the whole stay as short as possible. The late to church habit once contracted is misleading. Who will start the reformation in this line, for the benefit of both churches and concerts? To football teams, cricket teams, et alius. If you are going to have a match at a certain hour do have it, but don't ask us rheumatic old folks to go and look on if we have to sit in the cold, biting wind for three-quarters of an hour waiting for the play to begin, for it makes the sit to long and we have to go away before the play does begin. Then when it comes to a matter of subscribing to a fund or club we refuse, get cranky or do something else perhaps not half as innocent. Advertising something to happen on time and doing it another causes one to cast back to church topics, as in church we often hear things that do stick in the memory and do us lots of good.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

It is hot.

The Call to Day, 31 for 31.

Bunny Southern Alberta's summer weather has been in full force the past week.

Months has a lot of entertaining men and their accompanying families that town extensively shortly.

Married—At Gleichen on Monday, June 1st, 1909, by the Rev. Mr. Curtis, Mr. Arthur Vincent O'Leary to Miss Edith Ellen Goldthorpe, both of Arrowwood Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Craghton were in town Saturday to meet their son, who has been attending school in the east since last fall, but has returned owing to a severe illness.

Prarie Lodge No. 44 I.O.G.F., also organizing in Gleichen a few months ago have been making good and from the number of new members admitted give promise of a very bright future.

The pastor of the Methodist Church is away at Strathcona attending the Methodist Conference, on this account services will not be held on Sunday morning next, 5th inst.

A very pleasant dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Allen Tuesday evening at their new residence on their farm five miles northeast of town. All who attended report thoroughly enjoying themselves and speak highly of the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. Allen entertained them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell gave two excellent vaudeville entertainments in the Farmers' Hall last Thursday and Saturday nights and considering the warm weather there was a fair sized audience present. When they return to Gleichen again they will be greeted by many friends.

Gleichen Fair Aug. 19 and 20.

The usual monthly meeting of the local branch of the United Alberta Farmers' Association will be held at the school house on Saturday next at 2:30 p.m., when communications from the Central Branch will be considered. Although it is a busy time and many prefer sticking to work at home still it is never lost time to meet for the purpose of giving or getting information or arranging for the best method of marketing their crop.

The Blackfoot Indians gave a high class entertainment in the Farmers' Hall one night last week consisting of their most picturesque dances, and were well patronized. The Indians were in full war paint and gave a show that would attract a crowd in any part of the world, no far as dress and noise are concerned. The wisdom of allowing the Indians the use of the hall is questioned, and in future it is probable they will have to choose an outdoor place for their shows.

One day last week the Gleichen Trading Co. tore down the building occupied by E. Urch in order to commence the construction of their new block, and Mr. Urch has moved into the new store next to the Company's building. This building is one of Gleichen's oldest land marks, if not the oldest. However the time is dispensed by rather different old-timers tell the story differ-ently. The building was built about twenty years ago and occupied by a Roman Jew, whose name is given as David Deirshank, as a saloon, but who died some years ago. W. A. Allen, now at Field, B. C. was the next occupant and later W. Williams, D. C. Wishart, E. Craghton, the Gleichen Trading Co., and J. A. Bennett all carried on business on the premises.

N. B. Darnum was in town Monday and said he had sold 100 head of cattle to H. Langlet, his nearest neighbor on Roebuck road, after advertising them in the Call. Both men consider it a very good joke that The Call should bring about the deal and also see the benefits of advertising.
